Chapter 1

Video Tests

Problem: Video stream content from CT Digital Archives and Trinity Kaltura automatically runs in autoplay mode in web browsers, and I have not yet found a consistent way to block this from happening.

BEFORE TESTING: TEST in both Firefox and Chrome for auto-play issue. Make sure that your browser settings do NOT block autoplay content by default, since we cannot ensure that users will have same browser settings as developers.

1.0.0.0.1 Best solution so far: Upload relevant clip to YouTube to display as iframe in web edition, with static image in PDF/Word editions, with caption link and footnote to full video, uploaded for historical preservation to CTDA or Kaltura

1.0.0.0.2 Testing if Kaltura avoids autoplay . . . as shown below in 1.2.¹. See additional oral histories with participants in the Sheff v O'Neill school desegregation lawsuit.²

Issue Background

Here is an oral history video as displayed on the CTDA site, which does NOT autoplay:

<https://collections.ctdigitalarchive.org/islandora/object/120002:172>

Here is the CTDA MP4 video stream for that object, which runs AUTOPLAY in Chrome and FFox for Mac (and perhaps other browsers). CTDA says there is no setting to turn off autoplay from datastreams

<https://collections.ctdigitalarchive.org/islandora/object/120002:172/datastream/MP4>

The stream above also works with this “view” ending, but also runs autoplay:

<https://collections.ctdigitalarchive.org/islandora/object/120002:172/datastream/MP4/view>

Failed: iframe with autoplay=false

Here is Bookdown code-chunk that displays CTDA video in web edition, static image in PDF edition, BUT CANNOT TURN OFF AUTOPLAY using the iframe method, even if I add “?autoplay=0” or “?autoplay=false” to the end of the src string, as suggested in Stackoverflow further below.

Also tried but did not succeed in adding a “no autoplay” command to the iframe through jQuery in the custom-script.html

Not Bookdown-friendly: HTML5 video tag solution

Here’s a solution using the HTML5 video tag, which inserts user “controls” but omits “autoplay”.

The HMTL5 video tag solution stops autoplay, but it is NOT ideal for Bookdown-generated books because:

- Bookdown/knitr does not appear to support the HMTL 5 video tag in the same way as it supports knitr::include_url. I could submit a request to Bookdown to support HTML5 video tag, but it's not likely to happen soon....

- This means that I cannot use Bookdown built-in support for figures using the HMTL5 video tag, such as:
 - the if-else statement in the R code-chunk that places the interactive iframe in HTML and the static floating image in the PDF, but the same caption for both
 - figure auto-numbering, such as Figure 1.2, 1.3, etc.

Failed: iframe solution with short video clip, stored locally, with custom script - but it autoplays

An alternative method is to store the video locally and display with HTML5 video tags, with a custom-script to stop auto-play. But Bookdown does not recognize HMTL5, so no figure auto-numbering and captions will be displayed, and therefore not ideal, as described above.

Testing dynamic reference with footnote

In addition its financial assets, Clark also praised Hartford's abundant cultural riches. The nation's best-known authors, Samuel Clemens (more commonly known as Mark Twain) and Harriet Beecher Stowe (whose best-seller, Uncle Tom's Cabin, influenced the Civil War), both took up residence in the city, alongside many of their literary companions, editors, and publishers. In addition to serving as the state capital, Hartford prized its extensive libraries, museum, and hospital. "The Hartford school buildings are said to the finest in the State," Clark added, and called special attention to his alma mater, Hartford Public High School, the second oldest in the nation, which also enjoyed "a reputation with all the leading colleges as one of the best of all the preparatory schools," as shown in Figure 2.1.¹ In fact, the education that young people received in the city's public school system far surpassed what was available in the outlying rural towns, known today as the suburbs.

Testing with and without auto_pdf

- Define a text reference for captions, because this method accepts complex syntax, such as RMarkdown cites and links, as shown below. For details, see Bookdown sections on Figures <https://bookdown.org/yihui/bookdown/figures.html> and Markdown extensions <https://bookdown.org/yihui/bookdown/markdown-extensions-by-bookdown.html>.
- Insert a BLANK LINE between the text reference and the R code chunk coming up.
- Insert an R code chunk <https://bookdown.org/yihui/bookdown/r-code.html>, with NO SPACES between ref:chunk-label, as shown below.
- To reduce the width (or height) of the output, add `out.width="30%"` to the code chunk, which works for Web edition and also PDF edition. If width is less than full, also insert `fig.align="center"`.
- To display interactive content in the Web edition and a static image in the PDF edition, create both elements and insert an if-else statement in the R code chunk to display these elements in different outputs, as shown below. (Thanks to Michael Dorman for this tip.)
- If the interactive content includes an iframe (for a map or chart), the default height will be 400 pixels. To adjust the iframe height (or width), insert a line of code in `custom-scripts.html` and add a code comment to the text to serve as a reminder, as shown below. Also, make sure that the `index.Rmd` file includes the custom script in the header, as described in the section above.

¹Tegeler, Finding Common Ground.

- Optional: In the body text, insert a dynamic reference to the figure in the same file, because PDF engine creates floating images that may be placed on the next page. Sample dynamic reference to a figure further below: ... as shown in Figure 3.3.
- Reminder: If the image appears a second time in the book, in a separate chapter, be sure to relabel the text ref: year-title2.
- Note: Bookdown does not auto-number figures in the `index.Rmd` file, which serves as a preface or introduction.

TODO for final PDF edition:

- About `auto_pdf`: “`include_graphics()` can be smart enough to use PDF graphics automatically when the output format is LaTeX and the PDF graphics files exist, e.g., an image path `foo/bar.png` can be automatically replaced with `foo/bar.pdf` if the latter exists. PDF images often have better qualities than raster images in LaTeX/PDF output. To make use of this feature, set the argument `auto_pdf = TRUE`, or set the global option `options(knitr.graphics.auto_pdf = TRUE)` to enable this feature globally in an R session.” from <https://bookdown.org/yihui/bookdown/figures.html>
- Decide if ‘`out.width`’ and ‘`out.height`’ is preferable in all cases to “`fig_height=7`”

3.0.0.0.1 Static image in all editions, WITH `auto_pdf`, no interactive version
